Jarman Announces Changes, Deletions In Grade System

• EFFECTIVE as of the present Fall Term, several changes in the University grading system have been adopted, according to an announcement by Dr. Burnice H. Jarman, registrar.

In its stated meeting last Tuesday the Academic Council of the University decided that "E" (Conditional) grades be eliminated and that "Incomplete" grades be given only in cases of excused failure to complete the required work of a course, which would include examinations, laboratory exercises, and written papers.

It was further decided that "Incomplete" grades not made up in a calendar year be counted as a course attempted. "FW" (Failure Withdrawn) will be used to indicate unauthorized withdrawal from a course.

Another change in the grading system is that the numerical equivalents of grades stated in the catalogue are to be abandoned.

Tree-lighting, Group Singing, Initiate Season

• MEMBERS OF the Engineers Council will officially open the Christmas season at the University on Monday, December 15, when they hold their annual Christmas carol sing on Lisner terrace.

The ceremony will begin at 5:30 p.m. and will be recorded by radio station WINK to be broadcast at 8 p.m. the same evening. Included in the festivities will be several selections by the Glee Clubs under the direction of Dr. Robert Harmon and The University Band under Mr. Leon Brusiloff. Miss Virginia Kirkbride will lead the All-U sing. Books containing the words and music for the carols will be passed out to the students at that time.

The tree will be set up on Saturday by members of the Engineers Council. Benjamin Sorin, Council president, is master of ceremonies for the affair. Dean F. W. Felker, of the School of Engineering, will introduce President Cloyd Heck Marvin, who will light the tree.

The ceremony of lighting the tree is held as a memorial to Frank A. Hitchcock, late civil engineering professor who originated the ceremony at the University.

University Players Present 'The Fan' As Opening Production of Season

ZELDA FICHANDLER

KATHERINE HALL

• OPENING THEIR first season on the campus Friday and Saturday nights, the University Players present "The Fan", Carlo Goldoni's raucous 18th century comedy.

The Players' period costume production is under the direction of Mr. Edward Mangum, speech instructor and former director of The Mount Vernon Players. Curtain time will be 8:30 p.m. in Lisner Auditorium.

Cast in the romantic leads are Zelda Fichandler, in the role of Giannina, playing opposite Fred Buschmeyer, as Crespino; and Katherine Hall, in Candida's role, playing opposite Donald Muir, as Evaristo. Muir replaces Philip Wilson, who is ill. Warner Schreiner, cast as the Count, provides comic complications.

The supporting cast includes University students Pen Stephens, Dorothy Ohliger, Robert Rainsbury, Martin Teckner, Evelyn Lipsky, Eric Rhodes, Alan Wakefield, Orel Leonard, Bill Jobe, and "Black Boy", a Great Dane owned by Dr. Natalie White of the Speech Department. Under-studies for the cast are Mary Olds, Robert Knapp, Lewis MacCracken, and Johnny Johnson.

Featuring student prices, admission for "The Fan" will be 90 cents on presentation of activity cards, while the general price will be $1.20. Harry Raker, business manager, stated that tickets are available at the Lisner Auditorium box office, 21 and H Streets, N. W., between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. daily, and telephone reservations may be made by calling National 5055 any time between 1 p.m. and 10 p.m.

First produced in 1760, "The Fan" was presented to Washingtonians in 1910 by The Yale Dramatic Club, featuring E. Mortillaro Woolley, now famous in Hollywood as "The Beard".

Goldoni, in offering a type of farce that stressed action more than plot, brought successful comedy to the Italian theater and became known as the Moliere of Italy. "The Fan", which portrays the trials and tribulations over a lady's fan, has remained important in the world of drama.

Collegiate Who's Who Picks Seventeen Women, Eleven Men

• SEVENTEEN WOMEN and eleven men have been selected to represent the University in the 1947-48 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities", according to a list released this week by Dr. Burnice Jarman, Registrar. Names and pictures may be found on pages 4, 5, and 6.

The collegiate Who's Who is published annually, to provide recognition for meritorious service by American college students to their schools.

The first book came into print in 1934-35, with a twofold purpose: first, to honor the deserving student who has displayed merit in college, and second, to establish a reference volume of information on leading college students.

The method of selection varies from school to school, so as to be best adapted to different campus situations. At the University students are chosen on the basis of leadership and service by student and faculty committees. Juniors and seniors are eligible.

A compilation of biographies of distinguished students throughout the nation is published annually, and the students listed represent the outstanding members of the colleges.

One of the chief functions of the publication is making employment contacts for the group of graduates attaining a place in the book.

Lest We Forget...

• LAST SUNDAY was the sixth anniversary of Pearl Harbor day. We were well reminded of the event in the daily press, over the radio, by our friends in conversation, and in our own recollections. Each of us has many things to remember about the last six years, personal events and things that happened to our friends and acquaintances, and no two sets of recollections are quite the same.

There are, however, a few common lessons to be learned from the recent war years—the value of national preparedness, for example, and the need to be aware of what happens in other parts of the world, and the virtues and sense of well-being that comes from the united efforts of the people of the nation working toward a common goal.

Many of those who served overseas experienced first-hand the physical discomforts of cold and hunger—though to the everlasting credit of our military supply services such experiences were of relatively short duration. Many more, however, saw first-hand one of the worst aftermaths of the damnable business of war—saw entire communities and even nations whose populations had been slowly starving for months and years, where the growth of the children was stunted, physical activity slowed and dulled, and recovery from serious illness did not often occur.

We have learned that we can not ignore the rest of the peoples of this world. We are aware—unless we are blind and deaf—that tens of thousands of individuals overseas are in desperate need of help in the form of nourishing food, and that they need it quickly.

Tassels, sophomore women's honorary, is sponsoring a drive on campus to secure funds to purchase food packages through CARE, the nationally-known and recommended agency for foreign relief.

Let your memory, your imagination and your conscience be your guide.

To The Student Body

• RECOGNIZING THE seriousness of the world situation and the need to aid those countries where the low level of subsistence threatens internal and international peace, the Student Council desires to call the attention of the students to the worthy project of Tassels.

Tassels, Junior College women's honorary, has undertaken the project of sponsoring a CARE-food package drive to aid needy persons in other countries. To this drive the Student Council gives its full support and encouragement and urges all students to help make this project a significant contribution to better international understanding.

Fremont Jewell,
President, The Student Council.

Education Graduates Must Take National Teacher Examination

• UNDER the reorganized program of the University's School of Education, all candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in education will be required, for the first time, to take the National Teacher Examinations prior to graduation. These examinations will be administered at the University on two successive Saturdays, February 7 and 14, Dr. Arthur A. Hoppe, examiner, has announced.

Engineers Receive Surplus Equipment Worth a Million

• UNIVERSITY students in the School of Engineering will benefit greatly by the recent acquisition by The University of war surplus scientific and engineering equipment valued at over a million dollars.

Building X on 23 Street has been the scene of much activity for the past two weeks. Huge 10-ton van trucks have been pulling up to the doors to unload everything from tremendous testing machines to engineering text books.

Most of the equipment delivered is the result of a recent buying spree in Detroit by Mr. Greely and Mr. Kerly of the School of Engineering. Among other things they purchased a Brinell hardness tester, a Rockwell tester, a Scheleroscope, a diamond hardness tester, and a radio drill press. The addition of these units to the civil engineering laboratory gives The University the most complete metal testing laboratory in Washington.

Surplus electronic and television parts, including three carloads of vacuum and cathode ray tubes, and valuable photographic laboratory equipment have been provided for physics research students. Six surplus 16 mm. movie cameras and an aerial camera valued at $3,000 will be used by traffic engineering students in the civil engineering department to diagnose Washington traffic problems. The engineering library has been enlarged by the purchase of over 1,500 volumes on technical subjects.

Outside of the School of Engineering other innovations resulting from the purchase of war surplus equipment include an audio amplifier system in Lisner Auditorium and an inter-departmental telephone exchange for student use centrally located in Lisner Library.

Assisting in the procurement of the equipment was Mr. R. A. Kapper, University alumnus, who is chief of the materiel section, Bureau of Community Facility, Federal Works Agency.

Phi Sigma Sigma Wins Goat Show

• DEAN MYRON L. Koenig awarded Phi Sigma Sigma's pledge class the cup for first place in the annual Goat Show last Thursday evening in Jam-packed Lisner Auditorium.

The winning skit, entitled "National Party Convention—Pre-Election," consisting of original lyrics parodizing popular songs and advertising jingles.

Second place honors went to Sigma Kappas for their skit entitled "The Night Before," while Kappa Alpha Theta placed third with "The Celery Dream." Eleven sororities in all participated.

Booth Open To Order Yearbook

• SUBSCRIPTIONS for the 1948 Cherry Tree should be obtained immediately. Editor Mary Olga Longley announces. A quota must be determined this month for the number of covers to be ordered. This order cannot be changed to include late subscriptions.

Two booths will be open every day from now until Christmas vacation in order to give all students a chance to place yearbook orders. Hours for the Student Club booth will be noon to 2 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. A booth on the first floor of the Hall of Government will be open mornings Monday through Friday.

The subscription contest has been extended until January 10. No organization has as yet passed the fifty mark.

Editor Longley also asks that fraternities submit glossy pictures of their queens, sweethearts, dream girls, etc., if they wish to be represented in the Cherry Tree in this manner. There will be a special page featuring these queens. Candid shots of fraternity houses and any other pictures may also be turned in by December 15 by organizations or individuals.

Pika's Go Native At Shipwreck Ball Under Palm Trees

• A POLICE CAR wheeled up the drive and stopped in front of the PIKA house. For days the two policemen on the regular third precinct beat had been curious. It had finally gotten the best of them, they told Bill Brooks when he answered the door. They had to know what was the meaning of the yards and yards of blue bunting strewn over clothes lines erected on the front lawn?

PIKA's tenth annual Shipwreck Ball was more than Bill could describe in his own words. He invited the policemen in for breakfast, and showed them stacks of coconuts in the ladies' powder room, crates of palm fronds in the butler's pantry, and great bales of the same blue cloth in the Aquabar. The cloth, Bill explained, was muslin that the brothers had dyed in wash-tubs, then dipped into a fireproofing chemical and hung on clotheslines to dry. Next stage in the process was to run the whole works through a sewing machine. The blue muslin will serve as background to cover the walls of the Hyattsville Armory this Saturday, December 13th. Ambitious decorations have been planned, including life size palm trees, the leaves of which have been shipped from the PIKA chapter at the University of Miami.

Bobby Roberts and his band will play from 10 p.m. until 2 p.m. Entertainment, featuring six hula dancers and a roving guitar player, will be climaxed by the crowning of the Queen of the Shipwreck Ball. The Queen, will be selected from among the co-eds present for her beauty, personality and originality of costume.

PIKA's are going all-out with grease paint and loin cloth this year to emphasize the fact that the Shipwreck is strictly a costume ball—guests have been requested to attend either as shipwrecked survivors or as native south sea islanders.

Invitations enclosed in coconuts have been delivered to campus organizations here as well as to several organizations at American, Catholic and Maryland Universities.

As in past years, set-ups will be sold at the dance.

Warner Regains Band Presidency

• WILLIAM C. WARNER was elected president of The University Band at a regular meeting, December 7. Warner, who held the post last year, will complete the term of office of Donald Stowbridge, who is no longer attending the University.

Beauty Contest Climaxes Frostbite Regatta Events

The University Sailing Team has invited Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Brown, M. I. T., Boston College, Georgetown, and Maryland to vie for the Marvin Gorman Byrd Trophy presented by the University, Georgetown, and Maryland.

College Radio Foreseen In Overseas Broadcast

AMERICA'S UNIVERSITIES and colleges can definitely play a part in the State Department's overseas broadcasts, according to Mr. Kenneth Frye, chief of the International Broadcast Division of the State Department.

Mr. Frye addressed more than 45 representatives of 19 eastern universities and colleges who attended the annual regional conference of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System at a luncheon last Saturday at the Roger Smith Hotel.

IBS, which is a national organization promoting creative radio work in colleges, was guest of the University Radio Workshop, which is not yet a member.

A representative of each school group attending spoke on his school's particular facilities and progress in radio production.

Guest speakers at a luncheon Sunday included Mr. Frye and Dr. Ronald R. Lowdermilk, radio consultant, U. S. Office of Education.

Mr. Frye strongly recommended that the present system of college networks be expanded and improved so that the State Department could at times utilize some of their programs.

"Colleges reflect the American way of life," he said, "and the foreign countries (to which the State Department beams its broadcasts) are greatly interested in our ideals and customs."

Dr. Lowdermilk was in favor of a state supported program of educational broadcasts. Recently returned from a trip to Germany, Dr. Lowdermilk reported that Germany is anxious to exchange students with the United States and to buy American radio equipment as soon as possible.

Mr. David Linton, program manager of IBS, acted as discussion leader for a program panel, while a technicians panel was directed by Mr. Herbert Barlow.

Colleges and universities represented were Alabama, American, Bethany, Brown, Columbia, Georgetown, Hampton, Howard, Johns Hopkins, Maryland, North Carolina State, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Swarthmore, Washington, and the Naval Academy.

McNab, "Crossroads".

The Anthology, published by the National Poetry Association, Los Angeles, California, is a compilation of the finest poetry written by college men and women representing every state in the country. Selections were made from thousands of poems submitted to a board of judges appointed by the National Poetry Association.

Nessell Specifies Size Regulations

The Business Office will approve posters exceeding the maximum limit and further posting information will be given at this time. Approval by the Business Office must be obtained; otherwise, according to Nessell, posters will be removed.

It's On The Record

By FRENCH C. SMITH

• JAN PEERCE, undoubtedly the finest American tenor, held a Constitution Hall audience spellbound with his consummate artistry on December 1.

It is unfortunate that the Hall was not crowded to overflowing, for the program he offered was the most outstanding to be heard in some time. G. W. U. students were in evidence, however.

The possessor of a truly fine "Italian tenor" voice, Mr. Pearce knows full well how to use it. Bravos followed his rendition of the Italian operatic gems for which he is renowned. His reading of the Handel selections, the Lieder group and the shorter selections by Rachmaninoff, Quilter and Levitzky were excellent—polished to perfection by flawless diction and Mr. Pearce's superb interpretive powers.

In a very pleasant post-concert chat, Pearce, the man, presented quite a picture. His manner of greeting his many admirers is somewhat reminiscent of the late President Roosevelt. No one is turned away; everyone is made to feel "at home." Somehow, Mr. Pearce manages to convey the impression that he'd be deeply hurt if one didn't linger a bit longer. Even the shiest of autograph seekers goes away without the disconcerting feeling of having been through a mill.

At our tete-a-tete, reluctant to name his favorite role, Mr. Pearce professed, "I like 'em all—I don't like to force anything on the public. But, if you've got to have a favorite, 'Boheme' is it."

He was quick to assert that more young people are attending concerts and opera. He said: "Definitely young people are taking a greater interest in 'long-hair' stuff. This has become quite evident during the past few years in both civilian and G.I. audiences. You can start a program with a ballad or two, but soon they start yelling for 'Pagliacci'." Mr. Pearce gives a large part of the credit for this phenomenon to our educational system.

When queried regarding opera in English—a much-debated issue—Mr. Pearce replied that he was in favor of it—"But, before opera in English can attain nation-wide appeal, translators with an understanding of what is singable, as well as plausible and in keeping with the original text, will have to be found." He cited performances of Mozart's "Magic Flute," translated by George Martin, as a forward step in that direction.

One feminine admirer asked for his recipe for energy. (The past ten hours had been spent in several personal appearances, a broadcast, a visit to the V.A., rehearsals and meals—not to mention the concert itself.) Nonplussed for a moment or so—he didn't have a G.W.U. physics student to prompt him concerning kinetic and potential energy—suddenly Jan Pearce's face brightened: "Energy? SING!"

Monstrous Mastiff "Black Boy" Makes Stage Debut in "Fan"

By SARA FORD DALLMEYER
● INTRODUCING "Black Boy," Dr. Natalie White's Great Dane, appearing in the cast of "The Fan" as Walter (!), the 18th century hunting dog:

"Black Boy" weighs 140 pounds, stands half as tall as his owner, is sole occupant of the leathered-covered back seat of the car, and eats a pound of meat AND a pound of dog food every day, plus miscellaneous snacks.

Although his role in "The Fan" will be his first appearance on the stage, "Black Boy" has spent much time around the theater. Curtain calls, stage lingo, period costumes, actors, and behind-the-scene changes are in his blood.

The third generation of Great Danes in the White family, this black with white markings beauty is the constant companion of Dr. White, member of The University speech department. According to her, "Black Boy" is amiable, likes people, has no prejudices, and has a superb disposition. But, Dr. White adds, he doesn't like olives, black or stuffed, so give him a carrot instead.

One of his favorite sports is football and "Black Boy" was on the 50-yard line at G. W.'s last game of the season. Especially in favor of college life, he loves football crowds and doesn't mind night classes.

An important reason for his handsome appearance is the fact that his ears haven't been clipped. In order to make them stand up, most Great Dane puppies' ears are clipped, but not "Black Boy's," informed Dr. White.

It is his sincere hope that he will be a success in the coming production of "The Fan," Friday and Saturday nights, Lynchburg, Virginia, friends, with whom he became acquainted while Dr. White was the director of The Little Theater there, are anxiously awaiting the press reviews on "Black Boy."

Following the formal expressions of tribute, the assembly will adjourn to the Auditorium lounge where a reception will be held for Dr. and Mrs. Marvin.

Dr. Alexander Wetmore, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and president of the University's General Alumni Association, will be chairman of the Anniversary Celebration.

Members of the Joint Committee assisting Dr. Wetmore will be Dr. Leland W. Parr, professor of bacteriology, vice chairman; Mr. Lester A. Smith, director of alumni relations, executive secretary.

● RALLY AROUND, peoples, and lend an ear to the latest happenings on "ye olde" campus. You know we've got two weeks to try and catch up on, so here goes.

Sunday at the Phi-Sig-Kappa Sig game, the Phi Sig's went ritzy on us with their silver ladle by using it as a water-dipper. . . . The Phi Mu's gave a supper dance for TKE's November 29 . . . The Sigma Chi's Pirates' Ball, held November 29, was a huge of a success with costumes ranging from Ann Diffenderfer's sarong (she froze, the males melted) to Dionne Daltons' rabbit suit . . . Friday, December 6, PIKA pledges held an informal party at the house.

In the offing we have the KA Tacky Party this Friday night, the PIKA Shipwreck Ball Saturday night, and on the 19th, Sigma Nu. Phi Sig and KA will each hold a formal Christmas Dance.

Sunday also saw exchange dances of Acacia-Delta Gamma, Phi Sig-ADPI and TKE-Kappa . . . the KA's are a little bit befuddled on how to house-break their new Cocker Spaniel, General Lee . . . Chi O's held open house on Sunday at the Annapolis Hotel.

Bob Thompson and Chuck Coffin, Sig Ep's, were dumped out with an initiate the other night and had the privilege of walking back into town . . . Delta Tau Delta's were entertained by the Sigma Kappa's at Barbara O'Flaherty's home.

Don't let it out but the Sigma Chi's were in the Goat Show the other night by the appearance of Bill Shepperds' British automobile.

With 30 to 40 profs attending, Pi Phi's faculty tea went over well December 5 . . . Kappa Sig's are working on a deal to obtain a television set for their house . . . Robert Carter, Acacia, has once more donned his Army Air Corps uniform. He's a captain now . . . Bill and Peg (nee Holliman) Ham have returned to D. C. . . . Bill is a Phi Sig alum.

Maynard DeWitt, KA, was a witness last Wednesday before a Congressional committee on behalf of a textbook claimed to be "Pinkish" . . . Paul C. Zipser, Theta Delta alum, has arrived in Seoul, Korea where he is to be a civilian employee.

With that we close this session of hashing over everything. So until the next time, then, we remain as silly as ever,

Miss Foggy and Mr. Bottom

Christmas spirit has brought engineering talent to the forefront. Frank Cullen and Reid Mays, electrical engineers, were charged with stringing lights for the annual Christmas tree erected by the Engineers Council on Lisner Terrace; Dick Shaw and Ervin Lilljgren, civil engineers, with pouring cement for the base; and Dwight Hastings and Ben Sorin, mechanical engineers, with sawing down the tree. Utilization of engineering training in extra-curricular lab courses is a major part of education.

Lester F. Ward Society Meets To Elect, Plan

• FOR THE FIRST time since the war, members of the Lester F. Ward Sociological Society, an organization of students interested in the subject, will meet tomorrow evening to elect officers and to develop plans for the year.

All students who have previously taken courses in sociology at The University or who are currently enrolled in them are invited by the Society to attend the meeting at 8 p.m. in Room 200, Building D.

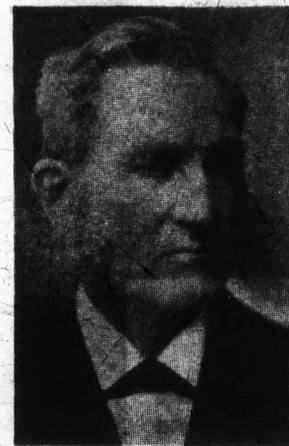

The Society is named in honor of Lester F. Ward, a nineteenth century American sociologist, who was a student at The University shortly after the Civil War. He later became a member of the faculty here and taught one of the first courses in sociology to be given in the United States.

The Society was organized in 1936 by a group of sociology students. One of the highlights of the organization's history was the centennial celebration at The University in 1941 of Lester Ward's birth. The Society continued to function until the death in 1943 of Dr. Wells, Executive Officer of the Department of Sociology.

The purpose of the Society as stated by Harold Loran Geisert of the Sociology Department, are to create and enlarge personal associations among all students interested in the outstanding men and women in the various fields, and to acquaint them with current problems so that they may better serve society in whatever fields they may choose as their professions.

Carr B. Lavell is the adviser to the organization.

Toscanini Repays Henry For Theme He Wrote

By BILL WARNER

• DUST OFF THOSE old Freshman research papers, the ones that took you two weeks to prepare for second-semester English and that eventually wound up on the closet shelf to rot and mold away.

Yes, dust them off and read them over again. They may be better than your English prof thought. They may, in fact, reap an unsuspected and lucrative reward. Such was the surprising experience of Henry Bardach, foreign affairs student at the University.

The other day Henry received a personal invitation from Arturo Toscanini, world's foremost conductor, to attend last Saturday's NBC Symphony concert at Radio City, New York. It was all an outcome of the English research paper that he wrote for freshman English class in the fall of 1946.

The paper was a brilliant testimonial entitled "Toscanini—Champion of Democracy" extolling the virtues of this illustrious greatest-of-all conductors. Last March, Henry impulsively dusted off the almost-forgotten manuscript and forwarded it to the maestro Toscanini as a kindly gesture on the gentleman's eightieth birthday.

The subject of the paper was prompted by Henry's ardent regard for Toscanini and all that he represents in the music world. Henry had listened regularly to the Saturday evening concerts of the NBC Symphony over WRC at 6:15 p. m., but to attend the broadcast in person—well, this was beyond the wildest expectations of Henry Bardach. Admission to this concert is nothing short of impossible—the perennial waiting lists are long and dilatory.

Last week the impossible happened. Months after Henry had mailed Toscanini the manuscript, the maestro, in appreciation, sent Henry an invitation to the broadcast. A seemingly valueless research paper, which was destined to become a relic to be read to his grandchildren, had paid off.

Toscanini couldn't have chosen a more momentous concert for the invitation, in Henry's estimation.

It was a repeat performance of Verdi's "Othello," Acts I and II, the premiere of which took place at La Scala, Milan, Italy, in 1887, with a young cellist in the orchestra by the name of Arturo Toscanini.

Last Saturday, sixty years later almost to the day, there was not the slightest suspicion of age in the maestro. Elated on his return from the broadcast, Henry said of Toscanini, "The virility of his genius whipped the dramatic music into an electrifying performance, unrivaled in this listener's memory. It seemed as if the heavens had descended on the studio in Radio City—an unforgettable experience!"

The concluding acts of "Othello" are to be broadcast over the air by the NBC Symphony this coming Saturday, from 6:15 to 7:30 p. m.

Independents Elect Edward Masters; Appoint Chairmen

• ED MASTERS was unanimously elected president of the Independent Students Associations at the last meeting, on December 1. Other officers elected include Jules Katz, vice-president; Suzanne Richards, recording secretary; Dave Haberman, corresponding secretary; and Ann Pasternak, treasurer.

Committee chairmen were appointed at the same meeting, and include Barbara Leslie, social; Fritz Kahn, student administration; Betty Wilkins, educational; and Dwight Worden, publicity.

Two constitutional amendments were proposed by members to be considered for adoption at the next meeting. They are as follows:

(1) The non-voting representative to the Student Council shall be a member of the Executive Committee. (2) Regular meetings shall be held at least semi-monthly.

The next meeting will be held next Monday at 8:15 p. m. in Government 101.

DAFFY DEFINITIONS

Here's a column inspired by one of man's most fundamental motivations—his primitive urge to make a buck. And why not?—a buck's a buck. Get daffy, chums.

Synonym—the word you use when you can't spell the word you want.

Pedestrian—a married man who owns a car.

Hangover—the penalty for switching from Pepsi-Cola.

Snoring—sheet music.

You've really got us to the wall when we'll pay a buck apiece for these. But that's the deal. $1 each for those we buy.

GOOD DEAL ANNEX

Sharpen up those gags, gagsters! At the end of the year (if we haven't laughed ourselves to death) we're going to pick the one best item we've bought and award it a fat extra

Little Moron Corner

Murgatroyd, our massive moron, was observed the other afternoon working out with the girls' archery team. Somewhat unconventionally, however, instead of using bow and arrow, Murgatroyd was drawing a bead on the target with a bottle of Pepsi-Cola. When asked "Why?" by our informant, who should have known better—"Duunnnnnh," responded Murgatroyd brightly, "because Pepsi-Cola hits the spot, stupid!"

$2, legal tender, for any of these we buy. Brother, inflation is really here!

Just like Social Security. Only quicker. Pepsi-Cola pays up to $15 for jokes, gags, quips and such-like for this page. Just send your stuff to Easy-Money Department, Box B, Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N. Y., along with your name, address, school and class. All contributions be-

HE-SHE GAGS

Know a He-She gag? If you think it's funny, send it in. If we think it's funny, we'll buy it—for three bucks. We'll even print it. Sheer altruism. Take ten—and see if you don't come up with something sharper than these soggy specimens:

She: Why don't you put out that light and come sit here beside me?

He: It's the best offer I've had today—but I'd rather have a Pepsi.

He: Darling, is there nothing I can do to make you care?

She: D. D. T.

He: D. D. T.?

She: Yeah—drop dead twice!

She: Right now I'm interested in something tall, dark and handsome.

He: Gosh! Me?

She: No, silly—Pepsi-Cola!

Yep, we pay three bucks apiece for any of these we print. You never had it so good.

Buff Hoopmen Win Three In A Row

Beat Quantico, Kings Point, Wake Forest; Take On Virginia, V. M. I. This Week

All-District Has Seven Buffman

SEVEN COLONIAL Gridders have been named on the All-District team selected by Sportscaster Bob Wolff of radio station WINX, who has been announcing and televising the games of the three major local football teams.

Two separate teams have been selected on the basis of offensive and defensive performances. Selected on the basis of all-around play, only four men were named to both teams; those men chosen were: Carl Butkus, George Washington; Tackle; Elmer Oberto and Bus Werder, Georgetown, guards; Gene Kinney, Maryland, center.

Colonials' Bill Spangler was named to the offensive team, while Stan "Stash" Burak was placed on the defensive squad. Dick Koester, Tony Danowski, Don Druckenmiller, and Frank Cavallo received honorable mention.

Engage Cavaliers Tomorrow Night; V.M.I. Saturday

By IRA KALFUS

WITH ONE SOUTHERN conference win under their belts the Colonial basketballers face another conference foe over the week end in the VMI cadets. However, before Saturday's clash, the Buffmen shuffle down to Charlottesville to meet a "loaded" Virginia quintet tomorrow night.

The Virginia Cavaliers are well remembered for the trouble they gave the Buffmen last year. Both games were sensational "squeakers" as the Zahnmen came through with a 41-38 victory in Virginia and weeks later played another game in duplicate, shading the Cavaliers 57-56.

Back with Coach Gus Tebell's Virginians are the same five who caused George Washington so much trouble, plus some talented freshmen, led by 6' 3" forward Bob Kem-

Winning Streak Finds Hoopsters Slowly Improving

By LARRY GOCHBERG

COMING THROUGH their first three games with just enough push to win each of them, the Colonial Hoopsters are now sporting a three game winning spurge.

Against a surprisingly tough Quantico quintet in the opener on December 1, the Buffmen barely eked out a 47 to 45 victory in what Coach Arthur "Otto" Zahn termed "a very disappointing exhibition."

However, the team has been rapidly improving from their initial showing, and in last Saturday night's game against Wake Forest they showed signs of the drive that they will need to climb to the top of the Conference pile.

Led by Johnny Moffat's 15 point scoring spree and some superlative defensive play on the part of Phil McNiff and Ray "Ace" Adler, the cagemen out-ran and out-fought the Deacons.

The first half ended with the Colonials in the lead by a 12 point margin which Wake Forest promptly whittled down in the half, tying up the game, 38, to 38. McNiff and Moffat, in rapid succession, then sank two baskets to put the Buffmen out in front by a four point margin that the Deacons could not seem to overcome.

After almost losing a tight game to the Quantico Marines by their inability to successfully freeze the ball, the Colonials put on an exhibition of ball handling in the

William and Mary Conference Champs

THE WILLIAM AND MARY Indians are champions of the Southern Conference for the second time within the past six years. Having a record of seven wins and one defeat in conference play, Coach Rube McCray's eleven will meet Arkansas on New Years Day at the Dixie Bowl.

Though they finished in second place, the North Carolina Tar Heels are the strongest team in the circuit. After losing two games at the start of the season, Charlie Justice and Co won seven straight to establish themselves as one of the strongest squads in the entire country.

per. Kemper was a regular at Tennessee before entering service, and should see plenty of action.

Lettermen include guard Charlie Noe and high scoring forward Bill Pandak. Joe Noetker a tough center, with Les Blankin and Ron Richards round out the returning lettermen. The Colonials should be severely tested and this game should prove the "toughie" of the week.

Saturday night The Colonials play their second conference game against V. M. I. at the much publicized National Guard Armory. Not much is known of the Keydets, but in order to rate in the Southern Conference, they will have to show improvement over last year's squad. In our finale, we swamped the V. M. I. aggregation, 81-48.

Colonial Riflemen Intensify Practice

SHARPENING THEIR sights for a series of matches to begin after the Christmas Holidays, the University rifle team is intensifying its practice.

Efforts have been made by the team to reorganize the Middle Atlantic League. In the previous years the league had as its participants such schools as Navy, University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State, University of Maryland, Western Maryland, Virginia Military Institute, Virginia Polytechnical Institute, Drexel and Georgetown University.

Intramural Hoop Tilts Continuing

• INDIVIDUAL LEAGUE leaders began to distinguish themselves in the past week of competition. Six teams kept unblemished records to remain on top of the heap, although once defeated squads remained very much in the running.

In League "A", "Out of Towners" ran up its fourth straight win, trouncing Joe Schmo's 46-12. However, Vikings and Seagram's 5 remained top contenders as they gained their third victory. It was Bill Shirey's fine play that helped the Vikings top Backbooth, 33-23, as he chalked up 10 points. Seagram's gained a win from the Colonials by forfeit.

League "B" shaping up to be one of the better leagues, saw Barristers and Navy "A" maintain undefeated records, although the former had to work hard to gain its third win. Drawing surprisingly tough resistance from the stubborn "Draper Bulls", Barristers had to turn on the heat in the closing minutes to eek out a 25-23 win.

Silverman sparked the winners in their final drive, though Newmeyer once again was high scorer for the Barristers with 9 points.

Over in the "C" group, a four-way tie for first place has developed with each team holding a 2-1 record. George Baroff and Gross led the Dodgers to a 38-22 victory over

Vets Club, as they racked up and 11 points respectively. The game of the week with the most sensational finish saw a boy the name of Moser sink a nee hook shot in the last five seconds to give Shiners a 21-20 triumph over Eastern Bombers.

Kappa Sigs Defeat Phi Sigs, 6-0, Win Frat Grid Crown

• PAUL JACK, starring for the Kappa Sigs with his outstanding passing and running, led his team to a 6-0 victory over the hard-fighting Phi Sigs to carry away the Interfraternity touch-football championship.

Last Sunday at the ellipse, the Phi Sigs exhibited their usual hard-charging play on the line, but Kappa Sig was just too much for them. Paul Jack's agile running, plus the help he received on defense definitely influenced the decision.

Pharmacy 'A', Kruger Snatch Bowling Titles

THE INTRAMURAL BOWLING tournament ended last Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. with the drugists on School of Pharmacy "A" taking first place rolling up a score of 1607.

Second place went to Kappa Alpha who trailed the leaders by a good margin bowling a total of 1333. Third place went to the Jackrabbits who were only eleven pins behind A with a score of 1522.

Out of 95 individual bowlers George Kruger was well out in front bowling 344 for three games an average of 114.67. Murray and Edno tied for second place with scores of 329. Following them closely was Borton with 328 and D Morrison with 327.

Honors for high spares went to D. Morrison with 11. It was a three way tie for high strikes between Kruger, Borton and E. Furman.

In the first quarter it looked like Phi Sig's ball game when Prince tossed to Kraft for the only first down of the quarter.

The game see-sawed back and forth the second quarter with Jack trying to pass the Kappa Sigs to some gains. He did connect once for fifteen yards, but no first down was made.

The second half opened with Phi Sigs completely disrupting the Kappa Sig offense. Neither team was able to break loose and make a first down however.

It was in the fourth quarter that Jack managed to break loose and win for the Kappa Sigs. He passed for a first down early in the quarter and soon after connected for another. With about five minutes to play it was Jack on a fake reverse around left end who scored the one and only T. D. of the game, and gave the Kappa Sigs the crown.

SAE Pledges Hold Actives To 0-0 Tie

• THE PLEDGE class of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity held the actives to a scoreless tie in their annual football game, played Sunday at the East Ellipse.

The contest was marked by several long runs, Embler and Paul Denny for the actives, while Dean Almey sparked the pledge cause.

Top Sailing Teams Meet Saturday

Buff, Hoyas, Terps Sponsor Major Frostbite Regatta

• NINE NATIONALLY KNOWN universities will race for the Marvin Gorman Byrd Trophy in the First Annual Potomac Frostbite Regatta to be held at the Corinthian Yacht Club this weekend beginning at noon Saturday.

Included in the George Washington, Maryland and Georgetown sponsored regatta will be championship schools, Harvard, Brown, Yale, M. I. T., Boston College, and Princeton. Princeton is tentatively scheduled to replace the Navy team which was forced to turn down its invitation due to a restrictive schedule.

Washington Yachting enthusiasts will view one of the first sailing races ever to be televised when WMAL turns their lenses on the Tempests in their first major regatta.

Among those who will meet the local teams captained by Bill Hartge of Maryland, Bud Rohrer of Georgetown, and Eric Nordholm of George Washington, will be Tom Hanna, Splice Glass champion from upstate New York, sailing for Boston College, Bob Monetti, Atlantic Class champion and Long Island Sound Junior Champion, of Yale, Charlie Ills on the winning Brown team at the Intercollegiate championships this November.

Ralph Evans of M. I. T. from Marblehead, Mass., will probably be one of the most dangerous skippers in the regatta, having raced the Intercollegiate circuit for several years. He is known for his versatility with other school's boats.

F. Gardner Cox, Princeton, former President of the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association, and coach for the University team, will head the race committee with Leigh Brite, M. I. T., Jack Judy, George Washington, Jack Riggins of Mississippi and Navy, Malcolm D. Lamborne Jr., Maryland, William Heintz of the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Racing Association, and Comdr. Richard C. Latham, U. S. Navy.

Honorary marshals include President Cloyd H. Marvin, George (See REGATTA, Page 16)

University Swimmers Will Race

• OVER 150 University men will compete this Friday night in the largest Intramural swimming meet ever held at the University.

Races will begin promptly at 8 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool with Joe Krupa, director of Intramural athletics, on hand to direct the proceedings.

There will be competition in the following events: 50 yard freestyle; 100 yard freestyle; 220 yard freestyle; 100 yard backstroke; 100 yard breaststroke; 150 yard medley, (3 men); 200 yard freestyle relay, (4 men, 50 yards each); fancy diving (low board).

Since there are no restrictions as to the number of men participating in the tourney, all men in the University who are interested in swimming and have not yet signed up, are urged to sign up at the Intramural office, Building R, immediately.

Pistolmen Given Membership Cards

• MEMBERS OF THE recently formed pistol club who have paid their initiation fees and first semester dues will receive membership cards.

Beginning January 1, these cards must be shown to the range officer on duty before firing and practice will be allowed.

Excellent attendance is being evidenced at the Tuesday and Wednesday night practice sessions. Any club member who has not yet completed arrangements for practicing, should contact President John Johnson.

All members possessing .22 calibre pistols are requested to bring them to the range in order to share them with the other members of the club.

athletics, do so immediately at Building R. Those who have not yet signed up, are urged to do so.

On Building A Better Football Team . . .

By SKIP FOSTER

• PERHAPS LIGHTNING HAS STRUCK TWICE in the same spot, perhaps the giant, rusty wheels of administrative machinery are slowly being oiled for plenty of action. If a look at next year's football schedule means anything, perhaps it shows that the University has at last come to a great awakening, and realizes that athletics is a University's ace in the hole when it comes to prestige among other educational institutions . . . Anyway it seems that the University has finally come to learn that either you go into sports all the way or else you stay out entirely.

The schedule of teams next year, although not officially released yet will probably be the following in the order we play them: Wake Forest, V. P. I., V. M. I., Virginia, Kansas, The Citadel or Richmond, Lafayette, Maryland, Duke, and Georgetown . . . According to Max Farrington, Director of Athletics and Men's Activities, "In order to build a good team we must play good teams. If we come through next year with an even break, I'm sure that everyone will be satisfied. The administration is very strongly in favor of the advancement of athletics."

Are these mere words for the appeasement of an irate student body and alumni? Definitely not! At the present time, very vigorous efforts are being made to have the finest freshman team in the conference with the highly commendable Ray Hanken as Frosh coach. Farrington hopes that by next year the men will have a place to live and eat . . . perhaps a practice field (barring red tape) . . . One thing is certain, looking at next year's schedule, these improvements must come.

With such men like Johnny Schullenbarger, Jim Sprinkle, and Larry Karuba hoping to get back into school after their one year suspension from school is up, the gridiron horizon looks far from dark. I feel that a pat on the back should go to the top man in the University, our own Boss-man, for the sincere interest he has shown this year in the team. Yes, kiddies, things look better; perhaps those that cried long and loud will be able to dry their eyes . . . perhaps.

Intramural Cagers Hold Preliminaries

• IN AN EFFORT to give the spectators more basketball and to give the fellows who aren't quite good enough for the Varsity a chance to compete before larger crowds, preliminary games have been scheduled for the home games with V. M. I. and Davidson.

Boxers Must Train

• THE INTRAMURAL Office announces that all men who have signed up for the forthcoming All-University Boxing and Wrestling Tournament must train for their event.

If you have not as yet contacted Joe Krupa, director of Intramural

New Hospital Gives Routine Chest X-Rays

● OFFICIALS OF the new University Hospital, now nearing completion at Washington Circle, have announced that plans have been made to give routine chest X-rays to all patients.

Mass chest surveys, as well as additional diagnostic work and treatment, will be made possible when the new equipment is installed. It will be located in the quarters given to the radiology department in the hospital.

The chest X-rays are to be made with a photo roentgen unit. X-raying of patients by this process is a new practice now being used by hospitals to detect tuberculosis or pathological conditions of the chest which may be unknown to the patient.

Of the three diagnostic machines which will be available at the hospital, one will be a 500 millampere machine which can be used in the diagnosis of heart disease by the injecting of dyes in to the blood vessels for observation through the machine.

A deep therapy instrument and two superficial therapy instruments will be used for the treatment of cancer and skin disorders. There will also be special X-ray equipment for use in the study of diseases involving kidney, urinary and bladder tracts.

ISS Entertains Foreign Students

● A LATIN AMERICAN Night will be held Wednesday, December 10, at 8:30 p.m. in the International House.

All foreign students at the University and American members of the society are invited to attend this evening which will include refreshments and music.

International House Secretary Eugene Schwartz announces that the house is open daily for the use of members between the hours of 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. All foreign-born students and those whose parents are foreign-born are eligible for membership.

last four minutes of the Wake Forest game that drew applause from the crowd.

Bill Cantwell, whose scoring attack has been running hot and cold so far, broke away in the Kings Point game last Friday night to run up 19 points. However, the performance of "Old Reliable," Maynard Haltheck who sank 6 fouls and a basket in the closing 2 minutes of the first half, was the factor that kept the Buffmen in the game. The Zahnmen finally caught on in the closing minutes of the second half to take the decision by a 57 to 44 count.

A series of colds has kept the team from functioning at its best stride since the season opened. First, Howie Hoffman, varsity forward, missed the Quantico opener and then Art Cerra, varsity center, played only a few minutes of the Kings Point fustle. However, Zahn expects the team to be at full strength for the Virginia and VMI clashes this week.

Washington; Rev. Lawrence C. Gorman, S. J., Georgetown; President Harry C. Byrd, Maryland; Max Farrington, George Washington; Rev. Nicholas A. Kunkle, S. J., Georgetown.

It is hoped by the Sailing Association that this regatta will be the forerunner of many major regattas which will establish the University as one of the major centers of Intercollegiate sailing.

The Colonial starting lineup will probably be Eric Nordholm with Stan Shearer crew in Division A, and Jack Smith and Bill Dodge in Division B. Pat Granger will be relief skipper and Jerry Rockowitz, Irv Title, and Doug Cochrane will stand by as reserve crews.
